

2009 Word Received Sunday, January 18, 2009

This is the season of The Breakout, The Breakout, The Breakout! For from this Breakout Glory shall come multiplied blessings as My prophet, Elisha, so aptly knew. Just as a tree allows its fruit to breakout and show itself in the proper season, so shall I allow My Fruit, My Blessings, to breakout and show themselves in your life this year.

Woe to those who have lost faith, for seeds always produce, and woe to those who are looking at their empty barns, for they are full in the supernatural. For am I not The God who makes the fruit grow? For am I not The God of The Harvest? For the fields are ripe for harvest and your barns are ready for the substance of My Blessings.

Many of you have been tested which has brought forth more faith. And the fruit of that faith is patience, longsuffering, and more intimacy with Me. For this year you shall see many things that only I can orchestrate. For you shall see My Hand move and there shall be debts reduced, and many, with the faith of the heart, shall see many debts eliminated.

For this year, you shall see "and suddenlies" appear out of no where. And your storehouses "and suddenly" will be full. And your barns "and suddenly" shall be bursting from the seams. "And suddenly" your treasury will be filled from My Treasury. And "and suddenly" the Breakout Harvest shall be upon you with no warning, but only this Word from Me. For shall I not bless My children and break them free from their bondage?

For your fields of wheat and barley shall be golden, and they shall be endless, as I am an endless God. For I know the struggles that each of you have gone through. And just as a butterfly struggles to emerge from the cocoon, so shall you breakout and emerge in full beauty and in My Power and Fullness in your life.

For this year, I shall bring a new harvest in your thinking and a new harvest from your faith. For your storehouse, of thoughts, needs to be cleaned and swept and ordered. For the seeds of the harvest are thoughts, faith, and action. But your first fruits seeds are the thoughts that dominate the storehouse of your mind. For that storehouse must be swept clean and My Thoughts must take up residence to help you breakout of the thinking habits which are producing the wrong seeds for a harvest.

For in this breakout season, the mountains you have been facing, I shall crumble like dirt. And you shall breakout from the shadows of those mountains to see the Light that is shining upon you. And in this season of breakout, there shall be freedom; independence from the chains of worldly slavery that have been attached to your money and finances and treasury by the evil one. And for those who have ears, listen: My people, during the harvest season in My Word, they celebrated the goodness of their gains from the soil, and they celebrated before they ever received the blessings. For woe to those who do not celebrate the harvest and breakout before they receive their blessings.

For where there is one there shall be three, and where there is three there shall be nine, and where there is nine there shall be a harvest that fills the storehouses and barns. Look to Me and Me only for your provision for I AM The Provider and I AM The Promise. Look to Me for your breakout for I will provide doors where there were none and windows where there were only walls, for I shall provide you keys for doors that will not open.

And am I not Jehovah, The Healer? And I shall heal your land, and I shall heal your barns, and I shall heal your cattle, and I shall heal your spirit with a harvest that can only come from My Spoken Word.

So this year, I declare from My Holy Throne, that a Breakout Harvest is upon you and you shall breakout of the chains that you have been struggling with. For just as Peter's chains dropped off in the jail and he broke out of that bondage and reaped a harvest whose harvest still continues today, so shall My Anointing and Favor release the chains from you.

And the stream shall become a river, and the rivers shall become a lake, and that lake shall flood the land. For it is the Harvest Season, so praise My Holy Goodness and My Unstoppable Provision and My Faithful Promises, for I AM a faithful God. And My declared Words from My Holy Mouth and My Holiness - which is touching you and transforming you right now - for this I have declared a year of breakout, a harvest unlike any other. But you must have faith. Plant the rights seeds, for you shall reap in the same year. And look to Me, Jehovah Jireh, for the Promise to be fulfilled in your barns, treasuries, and fields. For this I declare this very day, for I AM The Lord, Jesus Christ. Selah.

<http://successchurch.com/harvest.html> printable version